TURNING OVER A NEW LEAF.

There are little shoes of big quality and big shoes of little quality. There are shoes which are a pleasure to buy, a pleasure to look at and a pleasure to wear. That's one side of the shoe. The other side isn't quite so pleasant. There are shoes it's a mistake to buy, exasperation to look at and a torture to wear. Be good to your feet. They're the weight carriers and they're entitled to the best your pocketbook can give them. You are getting the best and you are not damaging your pocketbook very seriously when you purchase a pair of our

Mrs. Stauver Found.

Chief of Police Delbrugge yesterday received an answer to his telegram to the Baltimore officials, saying that Mrs. Lydia Stauver, who disappeared from her home here on Tuesday morning, was at the Johns Hopkins hospital in that city.

They are in it Just the Same.

The Beatty Brothers, of Tiffin, have sold out to the U. S. Glass Company. The papers were signed yesterday. There is no doubt about it. When they denied it their terms had not been accepted, and they did not know that they would be; hence the denial.

Transfers Recorded.

Clerk Hook yesterday admitted to record one deed of trust and a deed made September 2, by Caroline Ebeling, widow, to Henry Ebeling, the son, in consideration of $200, for a piece of ground on the hillside in the First ward, on the road to the Mount Wood cemetery.

Bitten in the Leg.

A boy named Ellsworth Acker was badly bitten in the calf of the leg yesterday by a dog belonging to Mr. Hellstein, who lives up Caldwell's run. The boy was having a friendly tussle with a boy named Speidel, and the dog mixed in the melee and got in his work. Dr. Pipes was called in to dress the wound.

The Central Mold Shop.

The superintendent of mold manufacturing of the U. S. Glass Company, with another official, was here Thursday and inspected the mold shop at the Central. They were favorably impressed. It is said that all the molds needed by the Company will be made in three factories of which three the Central is one.

Horribly Burned.

Nalia Nishnitz, a laborer at the Benwood blast furnace, Martin's Ferry, who lives in this city, was terribly burned Thursday night, while at work outside the casting house. He started to cross the runner, but tripped and fell into the molten slag, burning his back, breast, abdomen, legs and arms. Had it not been for the efforts of his fellow laborers he would probably have been burned to death.

An Aged Pilgrim.

Wilhelm Kenza, aged 90, was brought to the police headquarters yesterday afternoon. He carried a big, heavy pack, and his hair and beard were like snow. He said he was an old soldier, and wanted to get to Washington, D. C. He first said his home was 325 miles beyond St. Louis, and later that he lived in Chicago, and "had a woman that he couldn't get along with." He was given lodging for the night.

Sales of Real Estate.

Yesterday Nesbitt & Devine made the following sales of real estate: Part of the Fallmore property on Charles street to Crawford & McCracken, price $300; a part of the Handlan property on Forty-eighth street to Louis Holdeman for $3,300; a part of the Walton property on Eoff street, in North Benwood, to Mrs. R. S. Hughes for $100; one of the Milan, White & Gallagher lots in Centre Wheeling to John Myles for $175.

Yesterday's Police Court.

There were eight cases in the police court yesterday, but little money in any of them. Charles Kraft, for disorder, was sent up for thirty days. Dr. Heath and Mr. Loeffler, up on rules for contempt, were dismissed. James Johnson, for assaulting his wife, was sent up for fifteen days. Almira Swan, drunk, went to jail for fifteen days. Pete and Martin Benididge and Mike Schmiles, Italians, paid $2 and costs each, for fighting. Frank Johnson, drunk, got thirty days.

Sad Case of Destitution.

Mrs. Alesta Brewer spent yesterday at the police station in a private room with a very pretty three-months-old boy baby. She said she was from McDonald, Pa., where he husband, a carpenter, was lately killed by an accident. She was anxious to get to Potomac, Ohio. The Pittsburgh authorities sent her to Steubenville, and the Steubenville authorities sent her here. Lieut. Frohne got a ticket to Parkersburg for her from County Commissioner McGregor. She has friends at Belpre, where she wanted to stop. She cried piteously when telling her story.

Confirmed.

The favorable impression produced on the first appearance of the agreeable liquid fruit remedy Syrup of Figs a few years ago has been more than confirmed, by the pleasant experience of all who have used it, and the success of the proprietors and manufacturers the California Fig Syrup Company.

A BIG DAY'S WORK.

Squire Arkle Gets Rid of a Large Docket with Celerity—The Divine Shoe Stealing and Other Cases.

Squire Arkle was busy last night with three big cases. The American Suit Club Company's agents, Kemp and Shippey, were first tried. William Brown, George S. Otte and others testified that they had joined one of the clubs, and explained the scheme. Prosecuting Attorney Howard represented the State, and Mr. Carpenter, a Pittsburgh attorney, and S. O. Boyce the defendants. Mr. Carpenter said that his clients wanted the matter settled, and if they were engaged in an unlawful business, did not wish to continue it. He asked that the bond be made light and promised that they would appear at court. They were held in $100 each.

The case of Bert McConaughy and George Coas for felonious assault and battery on Kis Walton was next called. Miss Walton was too ill to appear, but two of her girls who claimed to have seen the fracas testified. Col. Arnett desired to have the witnesses separated, but owing to want of room did not insist. One of the girls said Coas and McConaughy had come into the house, and after a few words, had been ordered out by Miss Walton. McConaughy picked up a chair, threw it at her and struck her on the back, breaking out one of the rounds. Annie Burris testified to the same facts.

McConaughy asserted that Kis Walton had lifted up the chair to strike him, and he kicked it out of her hand, breaking the round, and then picked it up and pitched it at her. He claimed that the chair fell against her, and she followed them to the door, cursing them. Dr. John R. Pipes swore he was attending the woman, and that, so far as he could tell at present, she might be permanently injured. Both men were held for court in $500 bail each.

James Richards was charged with stealing seven pairs of shoes from James Divine, and Charles Sweeney, Charles Wier, Mike Perieto, Robert McElroy and Robert N. Sylvius were charged with having purchased the shoes from Richards, knowing them to be stolen. W. N. Criswell appeared for Richards and Wier; W. N. Dovener for Sylvius; and Prosecutor Howard for the State. Richards said he had been told to admit stealing the shoes, to pay for them and to have the matter over with at once. Acting on this advice, he told Captain Delbrugge that he had crawled into Divine's shoe store and stole seven pairs of shoes. On the stand he retracted this statement, and said he and a colored boy had been in swimming one night, and while dressing they saw three or four people crawl under the Powikly depot. The boys went there the next day, found seven pairs of shoes and concealed them under the ceiling. Richards's testimony was contradictory, and he seemed particularly anxious to show that Robert Sylvius was aware that he was buying stolen shoes.

Sylvius told a very straight story, and asserted that he had no idea the shoes were stolen. Sylvius, Perieto, Sweeney, McElroy and Wier were discharged, and Richards remanded to jail. In discharging the boys, Squire Arkle said that he discharged Wier, who is about eighteen years old, with reluctance, as Wier had heard the statements made by Richards, which incriminated him, and had made no counter statement. The fact was, that Wier was not called to the stand, as he reminded the Justice. None of the boys denied the testimony of Richards, until the opportunity was presented to them, and Wier, who was represented by a lawyer, naturally left the matter in his hands and waited for his turn, which never came.

Benwood Brevities.

Vance Bros. lost a large consignment of butter which was sent over the Ohio River railroad. The freight train arriving very late there was no one to receive the butter, which was left on the crossing. When their driver came it could not be found.

The erection of a first class hotel, of which Benwood has long been in need, has been commenced on the lot adjoining the one occupied by the city building. It will be managed by W. M. Curran.

A large party of Republicans will go to Moundsville to-day to attend the barbecue and to participate generally in the good time which all are expecting.

The work of surveying for the Ohio River railroad depot has begun.

The only radical cure for rheumatism is to eliminate from the blood the acid that causes the disease. This is thoroughly effected by the persevering use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Persist until cured. The process may be slow, but the result is sure.

School Reception.

The teachers and pupils of the school for young ladies and children will hold a reception, on Tuesday evening from 8 to 10 in their new school rooms, No. 1318 Market street, Crangle block.

The patrons and friends of the school are cordially invited.

Mrs. M. STEVENS HART, Principal. The annual session of the school begins Monday, September 14, at 9 a. m.

B. & O. Excursion to Moundsville.

On Saturday, September 5, the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company will sell excursion tickets to the barbecue at Assembly Hall, Moundsville, for one fare for the round trip. A special train will leave Wheeling at 1 o'clock p. m. Returning will leave the camp ground station at 5:30 p. m. Reduced rates on regular trains from Cameron and all stations intervening.

Excursion to Buffalo, via B. & O. Account of the Catholic Congress.

Sunday, September 20, the Baltimore & Ohio railroad company will sell excursion tickets, Wheeling to Buffalo, at low round trip rates. Train leaves Wheeling at 6:10 p. m. For particulars enquire at Baltimore & Ohio ticket office.
